

Patti Rutland Simpson

Patti has worked for the past 45 years as a dance teacher and award-winning choreographer. She was the founder and Artistic Director of Patti Rutland Jazz. In addition to her love of dance, Patti loves acting and performing with SEACT. Her play Santa's Workshop is registered as an original work in the United States Library of Congress, The Dramatist Guild of America and is represented by the Cooper Company in New York City. This is Patti's first year serving on the board of the Cultural Arts Center and she is thrilled to be working with the Wiregrass Talent Quest Jr fundraiser the center does each year.
